

EKOROKORO

Padlock

Ekoro Kororo (padlocks) were used in Benin Kingdom for securing valuables and continue to be used today. Some Ekoro Kororo were intricately decorated and cast in brass, indicating that they may have been used within the Oba Palace or other royal palaces.

